REVERSE OSMOSIS
BENEFITS & FEATURES

Customized Solutions

AWP designs systems to meet your specific requirements, whether that means custom controls or unique components. Each system is built to high standards using quality components, ensuring long-lasting and reliable service.

Versatile Applications

We have extensive experience in a variety of settings, including light commercial, heavy commercial, industrial, and municipal brackish water applications. All our reverse osmosis systems are skid-mounted, pre-plumbed, and pre-wired for easy installation and operation.

Ultra Micro Filtration

Our expertise extends to pressurized Ultra Micro filtration systems, suitable for a range of water supplies from fresh and seawater to challenging wastewater. These systems can be used for RO pretreatment, drinking water, and re-use water schemes, and are designed for easy installation and operation.

Pioneering Nanofiltration

AWP has designed and implemented large-scale nanofiltration systems. We continue to supply these systems globally for commercial, industrial, and municipal applications. Each nanofiltration system is custom-designed to meet your specific needs.
